EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Vladimir Khiterer on 17 September 2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, line 2, --substantially rectangular—has been inserted before “bite block”.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The claims in the instant application have not been rejected using prior art because no references, or reasonable combination thereof, could be found which disclose or suggest the invention as now claimed.

The closest prior art references are Lesnick et al. and Kardos. Lesnick discloses a flashlight in the shape of a character made of a flexible molded material. Using the broadest interpretation of the terminology “encapsulated within”, the pressure-sensing switch and the battery can be construed as being so encapsulated within the material and the light partially encapsulated. One could conceivably bite on the device to activate the switch., However the flashlight of Lesnick et al is designed as a novelty item in the shape of a character and thus could not be reasonably conceived to be a "substantially rectangular bite block" as is now claimed nor would it be obvious to make it such. Kardos discloses a novelty cigar or cigarette made of a flexible material. The pressure-sensing switch and the battery can be construed as being so encapsulated within the material and the light partially encapsulated. Placing the end of the device in the mouth between the lips or teeth and applying pressure thereto activates the switch to turn on the light. However the device of Kardos is designed to simulate smoking and thus could not be reasonably conceived to be a "substantially rectangular bite block" as is now claimed nor would it be obvious to make it such.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
